

News and Notes from Mosquito Hill Nature Center

December 21, 2021

Winter Solstice Greetings to You!

There's no doubt the winter solstice is rife with symbolism. Maybe you nerd out on the astronomical details; perhaps you're inspired by poetry of the day, Maybe observing the winter solstice is an antidote to the Christmas hustle. Some people light candles or build campfires to brighten the longest night. Others hunker down with a hot cocoa and dream about 10 PM sunsets and swimming in a lake.

To all of you, we send our greetings and best wishes of the season.

“In seed time learn, in harvest teach, in winter enjoy.”

— William Blake.

Holiday Hours

Staff will be away from the interpretive building and office on December 24, 25, 31 and January 1.

Additionally, our trails will be closed December 24 through January 1 due to a statewide holiday deer hunt.

As we travel into 2022, we send our warm wishes for moments of peace amid the challenges, connections with family and friends, even if they can't be in person, and, above all, happiness and good health in the new year.

Show your support before the end of the year

Both Mosquito Hill Nature Center and Friends of Mosquito Hill derive most of their income from people like you. When you register for a program, take part in Harvest Moon Festival, or become a Friends member, you're helping us bring more environmental education and recreation opportunities to the wider community.

If you are able, won't you please consider a year-end donation in support of our mission?
