Welcome

TO NEW LONDON, WISCONSIN

The City of New London resides in two counties with the majority resting in Waupaca County and the remaining in Outagamie County. With just shy of 7500 residents, New London remains the largest city in Waupaca County spanning over 6 miles. Our city's vibrant history and vast natural resources continue to provide residents with a rich and relaxing environment with which to raise their families and do business. New London offers everyone who lives or travels here a small town, friendly atmosphere with big city amenities such as top notch healthcare services, state of the art industry and world class outdoor opportunities. The quality of life here speaks for itself along the shores of two beautiful rivers, thousands of acres of public lands, parks, and developed areas for business growth and expansion. Witness it by walking the Bernegger River Walk or Sturgeon Trail, do some shoreline fishing, go on a mural scavenger hunt, play disc golf or duck into a stream of water at the splash pad with your children.

Emanuel Lutheran School

■ 200 E. Quincy St. (920) 982-5444

Emanuel has a long history of training up students who are humble, bold, and different for a purpose. We are part of the 4th largest non-public school system in the United States, the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod (WELS). Emanuel is also part of the Fox Valley Lutheran Schools federation, supporting PreK-12th grade education in partnership with seventeen other Lutheran Elementary Schools across the Fox Valley and Fox Valley Lutheran High School in Appleton. Our school serves 240 students in 3-year-old preschool through 8th grade with a staff of eleven full-time teachers and four educational aides, as well as numerous other support staff and administrators. Nothing brings us more joy than partnering with families who value a high-quality, Christ-centered education in a world that is increasingly hostile to Christ; it is that dedication to our Savior that sets us apart from any other schooling option in the New London area. If you are interested in learning more about how a foundation in Christ will positively influence your child's education, please contact Principal Bill Fuerstenau to set up a conference and a tour. May God go with you always!

History Walking

NEW LONDON HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The history of the Thern Farm goes back to 1891 when the farmhouse was built as a dining hall for the New London Fair (1891-1912). In its heyday, thousands of visitors walked, came by horse and buggy, or rode the train to come to the fair.

After the fair ended, the land was purchased by the Thern family in 1914 and turned into a small dairy farm. In 2014, Thern Farm was recognized with the Century Farm Award for over 100 years of family ownership of the land. In 2015, Thern Farm became part of the New London Heritage Historical Society ensuring that its historical legacy will live on.

In 2016, Thern Farm hired a Director to oversee the operation of the organization. Since opening to the public the farm has offered programs, classes, and events as well as welcomed tours and private rentals. Thern Farm has become known for Rhubarb Fest and Christmas Open Houses which have both become popular annual events.

None of the activities would be possible without a dedicated group of volunteers that are up for almost anything. Whether it's maintaining the garden, parking cars, giving tours, or so much more, it's truly a group effort.

Located along Hwy. 54, just east of the U.S. Hwy. 45 bypass, and nestled on the banks of the Embarrass River in New London, WI, the historic Thern Farm is a reminder of days gone by.

through History

TAKE A WALK THROUGH HISTORY

New London is filled with rich history protected and preserved by its very own Historical Society. This place is a must see. Tucked away from the hustle and bustle of town, a visit to the village is a visit to another era. With six buildings to tour, you will find a snapshot of days gone by within the walls. Browse through the octagon house, a one-room school house, little white chapel, log cabin, train depot and the Simmon's garage. Each is furnished with original or period pieces that capture the historical significance of each building. Located at 900 Montgomery St. in New London. Learn more about the church and octagon house below or set up an appointment to visit the entire village by calling (920) 982-8557 or e-mail nlhhs.village@gmail.com.

The Village Chapel held its first worship services in 1949. Often referred to as “the little white church on McKinley Street”. The Chapel was on a portion of the property now occupied by the Police Department. Originally the building was the Three Pines School and was located in the Township of Liberty east of New London. It became home to the Evangelical United Brethren Church which merged with the Methodists in 1968.

The chapel was donated to the society in August of 1991 and moved to the village. It has been furnished as a non-denominational chapel set aside for worship and personal meditation. The chapel is also available for weddings, renewal of vows and more. Religious books and artifacts from community churches complete the chapel

At the time the Octagon House was built in New London, approximately 1867-68, it was considered an architectural feat.

In addition to its eight-sided shape, it was quite a showplace in its time. The parlor was complete with pump organ, plush couches, and large framed portraits on easels. A cupola on the roof topped a spiral staircase in the center of the house.

The house was built on N. Shawano St. near where the Chamber of Commerce is located in Pfeifer Park. The house was moved first to Hillshire land and then to the historical village in 1989. It is furnished today with period pieces donated by community residents.

Attractions

IN NEW LONDON

Big cities can be great, but visiting a smaller city like New London is an experience. Unlike the metropolitan areas that are jam-packed with people and activities our community is peaceful and beautiful. The pace of life slows a bit in small towns, and we offer quaint businesses, home-town family diners, miles of beautiful parks and so much more.

Whether you prefer to golf, hike trails, eat delicious local cuisine, catch a movie or go disc golfing there are plenty of activities to keep you busy. Check out the next few pages for just some of the attractions highlighted in New London starting with the Wolf River Art League's Start Art Project.

TOUR THE MURALS

There are almost 70 murals hidden throughout New London, the Children's Art Gallery is one of our favorite stops. The Children's Art Gallery is located in an alley off of Water and St. John's Streets. This is a place where kids will feel welcome and appreciated. Look at the colorful artwork installed on the backside of Water Street Vintage Antique Mall.

Throughout the fall of 2020 and winter of 2021 these young artists devoted time to making artwork at home. Wolf River Art League donated paint and supplies, and member Season Polsin put them to work asking only that they paint something they love. She collected the artwork and with the help of others, hung the Youth Art Gallery in spring 2021. There is a lion, a unicorn, even a painting of New London.

The overhead night lighting was installed courtesy of our Utility Company.

In 2022, a children's garden was created across the alley. The Art League's donated plants compliment the art beautifully.

Meet New London's Sister City KILLALOE, IRELAND

By definition, a sister city is a broad-based, long-term partnership between two communities in two countries. The relationship is officially recognized after the highest elected or appointed officials from both communities sign off on an agreement to become sister cities. After many years, New London and Killaloe, Ireland are finally officially Sister Cities – thanks to Carrie and Larry Katerzynske and many others from the Shamrock Club of New Dublin who were instrumental and persistent to bring the two cities together. Irish roots run deep in New London, boasting one of the largest Irish fests in the state. It seemed natural for New London to court an area in Ireland.

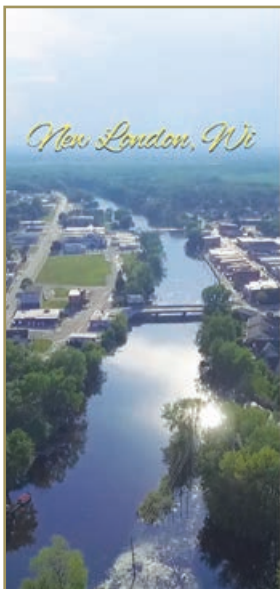

Killaloe is a large village on the Shannon River, sharing many similarities with New London like fishing, kayaking, and boating. Many residents from New London have gone over to visit Killaloe multiple times and Mayor of County Clare, Tony O'Brien has become quite fond of New London. This process did not happen overnight; in fact, residents from both areas have been visiting each other for the past 15 years even though an official agreement wasn't in place. Relationships were formed over years and friendships blossomed.

On August 16th, 2022, the City of New London proudly signed the Twinning Charter and a few days later Mayor O'Brien signed the Charter while in the area and visited with that same group that kept this process alive for so many years.

This relationship opens tourism opportunities for the City of New London inviting residents from Ireland to visit their Sister City and vice versa. The City of New London proudly reflects the partnership, watch for the Sister City sign welcoming guests into town adding some extra Irish flavor.

"After downloading the app, I found it very informative & helpful. I noticed there are a lot of area businesses that I was not aware of and am excited to check out. With my grandson starting 1st grade, having everything all in one spot to reference will be great. Technology has become a way of life for most of us, so having everything in one place in the palm of our hand is a great thing."

Sturgeon Spawning

YOU HAVE TO SEE IT TO BELIEVE IT

Each year, when the water temperatures are just right, Lake Sturgeon travel upstream to their spawning grounds, giving the public a prime opportunity to see these ancient fish up close. Visit New London on the paved Sturgeon Trail along Highway X, just west of the city. This is a favorite spot for onlookers to view this wonder of nature with many gathering during all times of the day. Once the conditions are right and spawning begins, spectators can view sturgeon up to six feet long from the trail.

This incredible sight lasts only for a couple of days, in late March or April after the water temperature has reached 53 degrees Fahrenheit. In contrast, during seasons of low water flow and more rapid water temperature rise, spawning does not begin until water temperatures reach 58-59 degrees Fahrenheit. In 2020, a new fishing pier was installed along the trail as part of a larger project to improve the Lake Sturgeon spawning habitat.

For the most up-to-date sturgeon spawning report, call the sturgeon hotline number for recorded daily updates: (920) 303-5444. Visit <https://www.wolfrivercam.com/> to view the Wolf River Cam for underwater shots.

Would you like us to contact you when the Sturgeon come to New London? Register for a sturgeon spawning email notification in the New London area by visiting www.newlondontourism.com/sturgeon-spawning/. To request an automated phone call when they arrive, submit your full name and phone number to admin@newlondonchamber.com, or call the New London Tourism office at (920) 982-5822. Please note phone numbers and / or e-mails remain on a secure notification list year after year, so no need to contact us every year.
